Five Michigan Youths Held at County Jail; Waive Extradition For Burglary

About Town

And Country

By TIMOTHEUS T.

Father Time Slips Up On Ol' Timotheus

SUNDAY BEING MOTHER'S DAY I went to church with mother in Eldorado and she won a prize.

Boyee, it can sure come home to one in a hurry about ol' Father Time creeping and creaking up on a fellow, and Sunday it was Mr. Time slipping the punch to Mr. Tim.

They had three corsages as prizes. First was for the mother with the most children present, and when this was announced the eyes in the church started moving around and soon all centered on Mrs. Watson, who was there with five children.

She went up and got a corsage. Then the pastor announced the next corsage would go to the mother with the youngest child present and it didn't take a bit long for all eyes to reach out toward a young mother with babe in arms, who also went up and got a corsage.

Finally the pastor said the next corsage would go to the mother with the oldest child present, and my eyes joined all the rest in looking all over the congregation for a likely winner, because just about everybody there knows just how old everybody else is.

Then it happened. All those eyes which were meandering about the room started focusing on ol' Timotheus. It couldn't be, but it was. Those eyes penetrating me disclosed it. Every other possible winner had been eliminated, and there we were, the object of pairs and pairs and pairs of eyes. So up Mother went to claim her corsage of carnations.

It's really a funny feeling, going to the church where you grew up, suddenly finding yourself in a spot like that.

I GOT TO FIGURING, were they pink roses on a Red Radiance bush, or red roses on a Pink Radiance. They were pink ones on a red one, because the majority of the abundance of roses were red and a couple were pink, with part of the stuff taken from their car after it was transferred to rear seat of state police vehicle. Plainly seen are two guitars, one in case, meat cleaver, hammer, tire tool, and box of men's socks. In center can be seen tops of wine bottles and in lower right corner is part of quantity of rope.

Arrested South of Eldorado by State Policeman Sweat; Auto Full of Loot

Five Michigan youths stopped by State Policeman Adolph Sweat near the Routes 45-142 intersection south of Eldorado today waived extradition to Michigan, where they are wanted in connection with a burglary.

The five were John Harrell, 16, Louis Erwin, 18, Arthur Vogelsang, 16, Norman Neidig, 17, and Kenneth Roberts, 17, all of Niles, Mich. They were brought to the Saline county jail Monday night following their arrest at 10:30 at the Harper Texaco station at the intersection.

Inside the automobile, which had licenses issued to the father of the Roberts youth, was an enormous quantity of loot. There were two guitars, one in a case; a large quantity of packaged assorted sliced lunch meats, bread, potato chips, cigars, cartons of cigarettes, candy, eleven boxes of men's socks, a number of pairs of leather gloves, 25-fifths of wine, 11 cans of beer, chewing gum, ball point pens, several rolls of clothes line rope, a hammer and a very sharp meat cleaver.

Wanted at Buchanan, Mich.

All the stuff was brought to the sheriff's office at the county jail.

This morning a police radio message received here said the boys were wanted in connection with the burglary of a store at Buchanan, Mich., and items listed as stolen coincided with quite a bit of the loot found in the car.

The wine and the cigarettes bore Indiana tax stamps, officers said, which led to questioning about burglaries in that state.

Roberts told officers today that he burglarized a grocery store on the outskirts of Buchanan alone, that the other boys were not in on it. He said he entered it about 1 or 2 a. m. Sunday by breaking the glass in the front door. He also said that a camera reported taken in the burglary and not found in the loot was "thrown out of the car somewhere in Indiana."

Roberts said he did not know how the wine and cigarettes were obtained but Norman Neidig said "we bought the wine off a couple of fellows."

Roberts admitted that the meat cleaver was taken at Buchanan. Offered to Sell Items

Officer Sweat said he was ap-

Brother-in-Law Of Mrs. Daisy M. Seright Dies

Ralph David of Logansport, Ind., brother-in-law of Mrs. Daisy M. Seright of Harrisburg, died Monday night at Logansport.

Mr. David had not been in good health for a considerable period, became acutely ill while vacationing in Florida a few weeks ago and was returned to Logansport during a temporary rally.

He and his family have visited Mrs. Seright's home in Harrisburg so many times they have a wide acquaintance in this area.

Surviving are:

Mrs. David; their daughters, Mrs. Walter Gotschall of Indianapolis and Mrs. Raymond Simpson of Logansport; their son, Robert of Logansport; eleven grandchildren; a sister, Mrs. Ray Divers of Chester, Ill., and another sister, Mrs. Dan Storey of Wisconsin.

Mr. David was a business man who began work as a salesman, acquired a small hardware store and built it into a large institution including a wholesale electrical establishment. His son, Robert, an attorney, had been a member of the firm for the past several years.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at Logansport.

The Rev. Wm. Burroughs To Attend Presbyterian Church General Assembly

The Rev. William Burroughs, minister of the Harrisburg First Presbyterian church, left Sunday for Omaha, Neb., where he will attend the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church which will begin Thursday, May 16, and will continue through Sunday, May 19.

The Rev. Burroughs was accompanied by the Rev. Charles Howell, pastor of the Carbondale Presbyterian church, the Rev. Pope Ward, minister at Murphysboro, and the Rev. R. L. Westervelt, pastor of the Shawneetown Presbyterian church.

Dr. John B. Barnes, consultant in the SIU department of community development, will be guest speaker at the First Presbyterian church Sunday, May 19, in the absence of the Rev. Burroughs.

New Cold Record At Antarctic Base

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy announced Monday that a new world cold record of 100 degrees below zero has been recorded at Amundsen-Scott base in the Antarctic.

What's more, it added, scientists at the International Geophysical Year research station expect the mercury to dip to 120 degrees below once the Antarctic winter starts on June 21.

The previous record—90 below—was recorded in February, 1892, at Verhovskiy in northern Siberia.

The Navy said the new record was set May 11.

Avoid Cuts in Planes, Missiles, President Asks

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower told Republican legislative leaders today he "would not want to assume responsibility for the security of the country" if Congress cuts funds for missiles and aircraft.

The president made this observation at his regular weekly White House meeting with GOP congressional leaders.

House Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin Jr. told newsmen after the 90-minute meeting that the president expressed alarm at reports that a House Military Appropriations subcommittee has made cuts in the Defense Department's missiles and aircraft program.

Eisenhower will try to enlist public support for his whole $71,800,000 budget in a nationwide TV-Radio speech tonight. It will be carried live over four radio and one TV (NBC) network at 7 p. m. c.s.t. and by film over two other TV networks (CBS and ABC) at 9:15 p. m. c.s.t.

Martin said the president expressed himself at today's meeting strongly against any cuts in the missile-aircraft program. Martin quoted him as saying he "would not want to assume responsibility for the security of the country" if such cuts are made.

Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland said he agreed completely with the president on this subject. Knowland called the missiles and aircraft program "our greatest guarantee of peace." He said aggressors started World War II and the Korean conflict because "they thought we were too weak to strike back."

"As long as the Communists maintain their strong military position," Knowland said, "this is not the time for the United States or the free world to weaken its defenses."

Knowland told reporters the president discussed with GOP leaders the "broad scope" of tonight's budget talk. But the president devoted most of his time, Knowland said, to urging the GOP leaders to prevent any severe cuts in the defense budget.

Death Takes Fred Smith, 76

Fred Smith, 76, RFD 1, Harrisburg, formerly a resident of the Carbondale community, died at the Lightner hospital in Harrisburg, Monday. The funeral will be held Wednesday at 3:30 p. m. at the Riggan funeral home in Carbondale. Rev. Norman E. Tony will officiate with burial in the Oakwood cemetery near Carbondale.

Clean-Up Day Progressing Despite Heavy Rainfall

Although rainfall late yesterday and this morning had dampened the effort, the Harrisburg Clean-Up Day was progressing today.

Mayor Claude Gibbons said that eight or ten trucks were out this morning picking up whatever had been put for them to pick up. "We are trying to cover the town thoroughly," he said.

1.42 Inch Rainfall

The Harrisburg area continued to receive lots of rainfall. From 7 a. m. yesterday to 7 a. m. today the rainfall measured 1.42 inches, Harrison Kibler reported.

David E. Williams is the winner of the 1957 $500 scholarship awarded annually by the Harrisburg Lions club and the official presentation was made at the regular Lions' meeting Monday evening.

David, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Williams, RFD 3, Harrisburg, won the scholarship in an examination based on the United States Constitution. The examination, given at the HTHS was open to any member of the Senior class and the scholarship is good only at Southern Illinois University. Young Williams plans to enter SIU as a pre-law student this fall.

Also at the Monday night meeting officers for the coming year, to assume office with the first meeting in July, were elected with Bill Holloman elected president.

U. S. Rejects Japanese Plea

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States today pressed its plans for new nuclear tests in Nevada despite a Japanese request to call them off.

However, the United States promised that the tests will be carried out with utmost safety.

In rejecting the Japanese request, the United States noted that Russia has refused to agree to a fool-proof arms control plan. The United States said "history has repeatedly demonstrated that one-sided weakness leads to war."

The U. S. position was outlined Monday night in a note handed the Japanese embassy several hours after the Atomic Energy Commission issued a statement emphasizing that the Nevada tests will produce less radioactive fallout than any domestic test series since 1952.

Both the State Department note and the AEC release emphasized that the tests, to which Japan and 46 other nations have been invited to send observers, "will be conducted under the most stringent safety precautions." The tests are scheduled to begin Thursday.

Three Other Buildings Are Damaged

Loss Expected To Reach $300,000 In 3-Hour Blaze

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP)—Damage is expected to reach $300,000 in a three hour fire of undetermined origin that destroyed the Rechter Brothers department store and damaged three other buildings here early today.

Dick Peters, store supervisor for Rechter Brothers, estimated damages at Rechter's at about $250,000, including $150,000 in merchandise and fixtures.

The Goodstein shoe store, adjacent to Rechter's, received fire, water and smoke damage. The J. V. Walker and Sons clothing store, which was destroyed by fire in October 1954, suffered extensive smoke damage. The American Legion hall behind the department store was damaged an estimated $5,000 by smoke.

A nearby service station and a produce company were threatened by the fire until firemen hosed them down.

Firemen from Carbondale, Murphysboro and West Frankfort fought the blaze, and departments from other towns stood by.

Two persons were injured. Carbondale fireman Elmer Rodgers was cut on the hand by wire and suffered burns around his waist when steam escaped from a pump. He was treated at the hospital and released. James Trammel, 30, Carbondale, was hospitalized with cuts on the face and chest caused by falling glass. However, his injuries were reported as not serious.

Authorities said no families were living in apartments over the Rechter Brothers store. The same store suffered a 75 per cent loss in a fire in the early 1940s, officials said.

The blaze broke out about 1 a. m., and was brought under control shortly after 4 a. m. A heavy downpour during the night helped prevent the flames from spreading to other buildings in the business district.

The Rechter store on the corner of Illinois and Jackson streets was located in a brick building owned by T. L. Bryant enterprises and Robert Davis. It was two stories high on one side and one story on the other.

John Stafford, 91, Former Resident Of Ozark, Dies

John Stafford, 91, formerly a resident of Ozark community, died today at the Creal Springs nursing home where he had lived for several years. The body is in the care of the Thornton funeral home in Stonefort and funeral plans are incomplete.

Graveside Service For Eldorado Infant

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Springer of 1010 Pond street, Eldorado, died at the Ferrell hospital at 11 p. m. Monday. In addition to the parents the infant is survived by her brother, William Springer Jr., a sister, Ruth Marie, and grandmothers, Mrs. Ruth Springer of Millheim, Pa., and Mrs. Nancy Holt of Eldorado.

There was a graveside service in the Wolf Creek cemetery at 11 a. m. today where the infant was buried. Martin funeral home was in charge of the arrangements.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Do not worry. —Matthew 6:25.
It is one thing to think things through from all angles, but having a final conclusion as to what is wise and best to do, worry gets you nowhere. Often we have known shattering disappointments turn out to be glorious success. Do your best and wait calmly.

Ike's Legislative Program

Editorial — BY BRUCE BISSAT
Most of the complaints against Congress for inaction in 1957 have tended to lay the blame on the administration's failure to press hard for its programs. But evidently Sen. Lyndon Johnson, Senate majority leader, takes the criticisms as if directed primarily at the lawmakers.

He cites some figures to refute the "do-nothing" charge—229 separate bills and resolutions passed by Congress, with an average of four and a half a day up to the Easter recess as against three and a half in 1955 and still fewer in 1953.

The critics appear to be unimpressed with mere statistics. They insist that only two major bills have passed, the Eisenhower Middle East doctrine, a resolution, and the measure extending corporate and excise taxes.

The great bulk of the year's backlog of legislation still rests in committees. The Senate, though on a big economy kick, hasn't got around to approving a single appropriation proposal for the 1957-58 period.

Some might argue that congressional inactivity actually is a good thing, that there are periods when the quality of government need not be measured by bills passed, and that in any event Congress is often accused of approving far too many bills.

It is almost certainly true that the lawmakers in any session pass too many measures, though congressional and other reforms could eliminate the necessity for considerable numbers of them. Major bills are something else.

A good many would also say there is some sense in the idea that Congress and the administration do not have to justify their existence every year by whipping legislation through the mill at a great rate.

But in this particular instance the Eisenhower administration has set itself several legislative goals in such fields as foreign aid, civil rights, aid to education and small business, and so on. Observers looking at Congress are bound to note any wide discrepancy between what the lawmakers are doing and what the President and their own leaders have suggested they do.

If they are tackling a program, then the gauge is what happens to the program, not a Geiger counter report on the number of bills passed.

Correspondent

Members of the Rudement church held an all day meeting recently at which the men broke ground with their tractors and plows for a soybean field to be planted for the benefit of the church. The ladies quilted and spread a dinner at the noon hour.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee DeNeal were hosts recently to the following: Mr.

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND by DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: Battle Of Budget Is For Control Of Republican Party;
Regular Republicans Advised
Ike Not To Fight Hard; Palace Guard Urged Him To Pull
No Punches On TV.

WASHINGTON.—President Eisenhower has to win two battles when he faces the nation on TV tonight.

No. 1 is the obvious battle of the budget.

No. 2 is the battle which GOP leaders understand much better than Ike—for control of the Republican party.

If Ike loses his round with Congress over foreign aid and the budget, the "regular Republicans" take over. They know this, and that's one reason they are fighting so hard and why they don't want him to fight hard.

It's also why the palace guard is trying to get Ike to fight hard.
They know, and have been telling the President that, if he loses this round, "modern Republicanism" is dead. He can kiss good-bye any idea of remaking the Republican party in his own image.

The White House staff began telling newsmen and congressmen even while the President was in Augusta that he was going to battle for the budget. They may well have done so before fully consulting the President, for at that time he was still being very palsy with the man who first pulled the rug out from under his budget, George Humphrey.

However, the White House staff knew far better than the President that when you lose one big battle on Capitol Hill, the rest of your battles are likely to be lost for the next four years.

GOLDY LIKES IKE—BUT
Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, most vociferous of the "regular Republicans," telephoned the White House the other day.

"I like Ike," he protested, "but don't let him go on television. The people are not for him on the budget. The reaction will break his heart."

Almost as soon as he hung up, Goldwater began cussing out the man whose heart he didn't want to break.

He talked about 1958 when "we" are going to get control. He pointed to the fact that most of the Republican senators up for re-election in 1958 are conservatives. Only two or three modern Republicans are up for re-election.

"And," he said, looking further ahead, "we're going to capture control with Knowland in 1960."

He referred to the backing which regular Republicans are organizing for Sen. Bill Knowland for President in 1960.

Note—Regular Republicans are already working to replace Knowland when he retires from the Senate next year with conservative Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois as Republican leader. They are determined not to have an Eisenhower Republican as GOP leader of the Senate.

PUNCH-PULLING ADVICE

When Republican leaders called on Ike for their regular huddle last week they cautioned him not to attack the sincerity of Congress when he appeared on TV.
They urged a temperate talk.

They didn't use these exact words, but what they really wanted was that Ike make no appeal such as Roosevelt so effectively made over the heads of Congress to force Congress to pass his program.

Obviously they were thinking of the party battle, not the President, when they gave this advice.
For the only way Ike can win is to call on the voters to retaliate against congressmen who put dollars ahead of the nation's welfare.

Sherman Adams, who knows what the score is, has been giving just the opposite advice of GOP leaders. But he's had a hard time keeping Ike in line. Ike is not one who likes to tangle with Congress.

He was eloquent, however, at the recent meeting with congressional leaders of both parties. Usually, the President opens these closed-door sessions by making a brief statement, then turning things over to Secretary Dulles.

This time he delivered the longest talk ever given to congressional leaders. Some Democrats called it "spirited," "impassioned." One regular Republican described it as "humdrum—so doggedly monotonous I didn't pay much attention."

NO LUNCH

Only real controversy was raised by Sen. Dick Russell (D., Ga.), who objected to Ike's proposed $500 million cut in foreign aid as a "paper cut." Russell claimed that foreign aid was not being cut, but simply transferred to the Defense budget. He charged that the same military equipment is still being readied for shipment overseas, paid for out of defense funds, not foreign aid funds.

Secretary of Defense Wilson assured Russell that there actually was a cut in military assistance.
Wilson's new deputy, Donald Quarles, broke in with a technical explanation to support Wilson.
Then assistant Secretary of Defense Mansfield Sprague joined in trying to satisfy Russell. But Russell made it clear that he wasn't satisfied.

The President made reiterated that the main reason for the saving was better management.

"Mr. President," replied Russell, "I hope you are able to incubate that idea in the Defense Department. That department could use better management in my opinion."

At the very end, Speaker Sam
Rayburn remarked:

"Well, Mr. President, I don't see any preparation around here for lunch, so I guess we'll just go."

Eisenhower smiled and dismissed the group.

Fire Truck Chases Blaze Five Blocks

MOUNT VERNON, Ill. (AP)— Firemen here chased a fire five blocks today before putting it out.
The fire was the back wheel of a semi-trailer truck that was passing through town.

It cost one oil company an estimated $8,000,000 to produce the first barrel of oil from the Texas tidelands.

Mercury sets the pace at 1957 Indianapolis 500-mile race

...sets the pace in size and style

sets a record for low-cost luxury

The choice of Mercury to pace the Indianapolis Classic dramatizes the fact that The Big M is the new yardstick of your money's worth.

In size, Mercury brings you the biggest size increase in the industry—more room and comfort in every important dimension.

In styling, only Mercury offers you Dream-Car Design. Here's completely different styling, shared with no other car.

In ride, only Mercury offers you Floating Ride—the most effective combination of bump-smothering features ever put between you and the road.

In performance, Mercury leads with the highest standard compression in its field, highest torque for regular production engines.

Yet never has so much bigness and luxury cost so little! The Big M is priced an easy step above the low-priced three. No wonder Mercury is setting the pace everywhere for style, size, performance, luxury —and value! Why not stop in at our showroom today?

Founders Day Observed By Beta Sigma Phi In Meeting At Carmi

The annual Founders Day program and banquet of Beta Sigma Phi sorority was held on Monday evening at Carmi at the V. F. W. home. Two hundred forty-nine young women from Harrisburg, Mt. Vernon, West Frankfort, Olney, Mt. Carmel, Eldorado, Carmi, and Evansville and Princeton, Ind., were present to celebrate the 26th anniversary of the founding of the sorority. Of that number, approximately forty represented the three chapters of Harrisburg.

A committee welcomed the guests at the door where they registered and were presented with a yellow rose and an identification tag.

Punch was served in the lounge from a lace covered table centered with a silver bowl containing twenty-six beautiful yellow roses and flanked on either side by candelabra holding yellow tapers.

The delicious dinner was served by candlelight at tables beautifully decorated for the occasion. Soft music was played on the Hi-Fi set throughout the evening. All members stood while Julia Pearce played the National Anthem and remained standing for the Beta Sigma Phi opening ritual which was repeated in unison. Chantel Organ gave the Beta Sigma Phi grace.

After partaking of the meal, which was prepared and served by the ladies of the V. F. W. Auxiliary, Pava Brown, honorary member of Carmi Xi Omicron chapter, and toastmistress for the evening, welcomed the guests and introduced Hazel Burns, president of Beta Nu chapter, who read a message from Walter W. Ross, president and founder of Beta Sigma Phi International. The Founders Day pledge was given by Johnetta Becker, president of Xi Omicron chapter. Mrs. Brown then introduced H. T. Schmitz of Fairfield, who amazed and delighted everyone by making a plaster mask of his subject, Francis Fieger, also of Fairfield.

Virginia Endicott sang the prize winning song of the year, then led the group in singing. The table decorations were presented to the guests for door prizes.

Mrs. Brown led in the closing ritual and the evening, wonderful and enjoyable to the members, came to an end.

Mrs. C. R. Moore, 110 East Raymond street, returned Sunday from a vacation in Chicago where she visited with her cousin, Miss Gertrude Farmer. Mrs. Moore was gone for about ten days.

W. A. Plumlee of 300 East South street, Harrisburg, has been returned to his home from the Franklin County General hospital in Benton where he has been a patient for several weeks.

Woman's Club Meets In Junior High Art Studio

The Harrisburg Woman's club met in the art studio of the Junior high school at 2 p. m. Monday. Mrs. E. Bishop Hill, president, presided. During the business meeting the minutes of the previous meeting and the report of the district convention were read and approved. Mrs. Hudson Mudge made the treasurer's report and Mrs. Hill announced the board's recommendations on certain philanthropic disbursements. She also reminded the members that the next meeting is the closing one of the year.

Mrs. F. G. Burnett presented a Mother's Day meditation in which she gave a fine tribute to all mothers and read a particular one which had been written to a club member, Mrs. C. E. Wing, by her daughter.

Miss Mary Alice Holland, the art student sponsored for the art camp at the Allerton park estate and flanked on either side by candelabra holding yellow tapers. Miss Holland expressed her appreciation for having been chosen by the club for this honor and opportunity. Mrs. Bauman announced that Miss Holland's work had been chosen to be a part of the travelling exhibit from the Allerton camp. She pointed out that Miss Holland had been in competition with students from all over the state some who live in cities large enough to have museums at which the children can be taught techniques from the time they start grade school. She feels that Miss Holland has shown a special talent and application in her work.

Junior high school students served at hosts and hostesses during the social hour, serving refreshments and answering inquiries about the many kinds of art exhibits on display. There are "stitched" pictures, a corn exhibit, pictures made from grain and beans glued to a colorful background on plywood. Extremely interesting are the "mobiles" made of paper, threads, wires and tin cans cut in abstract designs.

A most practical word by Mrs. Bauman was the explanation of how to properly use scissors, particularly important in the cutting of tin cans in order that the cut surfaces may not become cutting edges. She also explained what is expected of the art student in the way of growth in his work and the willingness to apply himself with thought in planning and the application of his talent to the materials available to him. Also the importance of parent interest.

Mrs. Hill announced that the May 27th meeting will be a breakfast to be served at the Wesley center at 8:30 a. m. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. L. B. Kimmel, Mrs. F. N. Russler, or Mrs. C. L. Travis or Mrs. Wm. Biggers. Reservations should be made by Friday preceding the breakfast.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter.

Olds Owner: Let me show you. This J-2 Rocket* is like two engines under the hood.

Friend: Neat trick—how does it work?

Olds Owner: It's a new progressive carburetor system. Gives you more economy . . . or extra power for safety. Take your choice.

Friend: Economy sounds swell . . . but with a big car like this . . . ?

Olds Owner: You bet! They engineered the J-2 Rocket Engine for our kind of driving . . . top efficiency at normal driving speeds because it's fueled by one carburetor.

Friend: How about that extra power?

Olds Owner: Give it 1/4 throttle and two extra carburetors cut in. It's mighty reassuring to know you've got that extra power in the bank.

Friend: I get it. Economy when you want it—power when you need it.

Olds Owner: Correct. But talking about it won't give you the whole story. This one you've got to drive. Climb in—let's go.

Reports Show Red A-Weapons In North Korea

By ROBERT MONAHAN
United Press Staff Correspondent
SEOUL (AP) — Intelligence reports show the Communists have brought atomic weapons into North Korea in violation of the Korean armistice agreement.

U.S. military commanders, whose job is to guarantee the security of the South Korean republic, privately condemn the unbalanced situation here as "militarily unsound."

Some go further in private and call it "stupid." Serious consideration has been given by army leaders to abrogating Paragraph 13-D of the armistice agreement, which forbids the introduction of new and modern equipment into Korea.

Korean President Syngman Rhee told United Press in an interview that the danger of an attack from the north is greater now than any time since the armistice was signed four years ago. He said he would welcome guided missile bases in South Korea.

According to intelligence sources the Communists have:

—Brought atomic weapons into North Korea and taught their army how to use them.

—Built more than 20 fields capable of handling jets in North Korea only minutes away from vital targets in the south.

—Built up a 770-plane air force which includes some 500 Mig jet fighters and about 100 Soviet-built twin-jet Il-28 attack bombers.

—Increased the North Korean army from 287,000 men at armistice time to 392,000 today.

American commanders say that, on the other hand, the United Nations Command has scrupulously observed the armistice terms. The result is that anti-Communist forces are equipped with inferior, outdated equipment, the commanders report.

Rhee told United Press that the Communists are aware of their "superior power" and "confident that another surprise attack might really succeed this time."

are general, or poor, relief, aid to dependent children, and old age, blind and disability assistance. The federal government contributes to all the programs except general relief.

IPAC Again Seeks Funds

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—The Illinois Public Aid Commission, which has already received a 30 million dollar deficiency appropriation, today was seeking another 9 million dollars to pay for its relief programs through June 30.

The 9 million dollar bill was introduced in the Senate Monday, along with the commission's regular appropriation bill for the next two years which called for about 317 million dollars.

The 317-million-dollar budget figure set by Stratton for the IPAC adds up to less than the aid program cost for the current two year budget period.

This has led Democrats to charge that Stratton presented an "18 month" budget and that the IPAC again next legislative session will have to come in and ask for deficiency appropriations.

The five public aid programs

CONSTIPATED? New laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken, constipating contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE it to action; to a normal urge to purge.

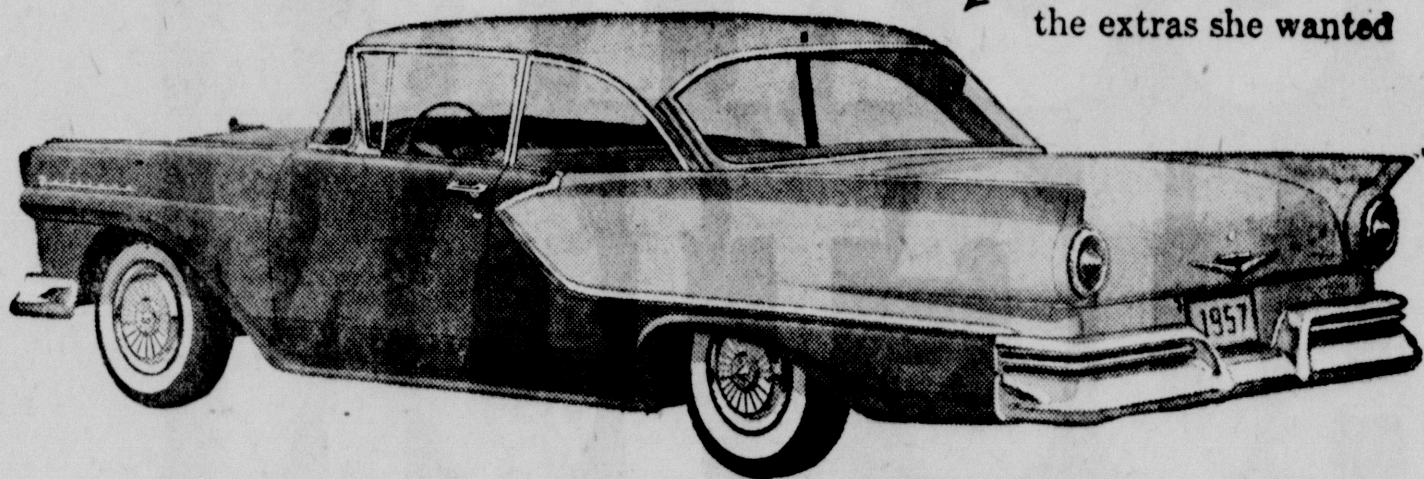

And, of all laxatives, only COLONOID, the amazing new laxative discovery possesses COLONOID's great moisturizing capacity, plus COLONOID's stretch-stimulating bulk. So effective it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, COLONOID is yet so smooth, so gentle it has proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy.

Superior to old style bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONOID neither gags, bloats nor gripes; won't interfere with absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; in clinical tests did not cause rash or other reactions. It's a physiological fact: Exercise tones your body! And COLONOID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Get COLONOID, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! Only 98¢ for the 60 tablet package, brings positive relief at less than 2¢ per tablet.

Emily Wade was a girl who had always dreamed of buying a new car. Emily watched her pennies so when she saw a "medium-priced" car advertised for "only a few dollars more" than Ford she went to see it. "My heavens," she gasped when she saw the car, "it doesn't even have automatic transmission; that's one thing I particularly need. And I do want a radio and heater." So Emily's dream evaporated. Then Emily stopped in to see her Ford Dealer, an amiable fellow, who showed her how to buy a luxurious Fairlane with all the extras she wanted and at a lower price than the stripped-down model of the "medium-priced" make. "This is a car a girl like me really wants," said Emily. And she bought it right then and there. Now you know what Emily knows... for a luxury car plus extras, at a sensible price, logic directs you to Ford.

Ertons Sell Home to Regnald Riegels, Purchase House of Bolen Perkins

The Ertson Home

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ertson, real estate brokers, who have resided at 701 South Ledford street since they built that pretty Cape Cod house, have sold that place and have bought the Bolen Perkins home at 111 South Jackson street.

They are moving there within a month, in order to be closer to their uptown real estate office in the Davenport building, 1 South Main street. Mr. and Mrs. Perkins will move into an apartment until they decide definitely where they wish to live.

Purchasers of the Ertson house were Mr. and Mrs. Regnald Riegel, 909 South Land street, who will occupy it as a residence. Mr. Riegel is the Allis Chalmers dealer, whose business place is on Rt. 13 west of Harrisburg.

The Ertsons bought their house and intend to rent it.

Other real estate transactions by the Ertsons in the past month include the sale of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilburn Cook, 23 West Park, to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Scadden, who will move there from South McKinley avenue, about June 1. Mr. Scadden is a mechanic at the Exide garage.

Mrs. Mable Owen sold her country place west of Harrisburg, in the Bankston area to Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Harper, who moved there from 721 South Land. Mrs. Owen, employed in Chicago, will maintain a residence in Harrisburg and has bought the home of the late Mrs. Chloe Jones at 325 West Lincoln street.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sherrod have bought from Miss Mabel Scott the property at 721 South Land street, and are now in process of redecorating it, readying it for occupancy.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Randolph, who have been living in Eldorado for quite some time, have sold their home at 129 West Lincoln to Mr. and Mrs. James E. Veatch, who will occupy it as a residence.

Mrs. Mildred Veach has sold her property at 112 West O'Garra to Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Davis. Mrs. Veach now lives in Glen Burnie, Md.

The Rare Adventure by BERNARD FERGUSON

THE STORY: The group of besieged Europeans in the gendarmerie at Seknou have tapped telephone lines and learned that the natives plan to attack at 5:15 a. m. Allan Larg helps his wife Mollie in getting the women to a safe place.

XVII
Billon turned his head as Allan joined him, and then unexpectedly put his hand on Allan's elbow and gave it an affectionate squeeze; and Allan warned to him as he realized that this was a gesture of understanding from an older man to a younger. Billon at least had completely accepted him as an honorable man in a difficult position.

Suddenly, across the road in the direction of the hotel, they heard a movement, and a sound which instantly reminded Allan of the noise a bugler makes, to clear his instrument before blowing a call. Billon rose to his feet, and in a low voice said in Berber to the men manning his searchlights, "Switch on!"

The light nearest the hospital shone out at once; and that at the other end of the balcony a split second later. The aim of both was true. The one shone right up the Areg road, into the hotel garden and into the Greek's garden, shining on what seemed like several hundred men rising to their feet at once, like the petals of a huge flower opening. The other, shining down the road toward the town, showed a similar sight. In all his life Allan had never seen the like.

"Sekkougais!" shouted Billon, first to the left and then to the right, through his megaphone. There was a deep hush—and the ram's horn did not blow.

Billon turned left again, and spoke toward the hospital, while Allan watched the insurgent men. They were listening, some with their arms in front of their eyes to shield them from the glare of the searchlights, others staring at the ground. Allan could understand nothing of what Billon was saying, but he could at least make out that he was neither threatening nor pleading; he was advising, exhorting, warning. There was no cajolery in his voice, but much sternness and resolution. He spoke for perhaps a minute, and then called for Camille Fernana.

There was a pause, and then a strong, high-pitched, beautiful voice answered from somewhere near ground level, in the direction of the hospital. Brisebarre, whom Allan became suddenly aware of beside him, translated it for him in a low tone: "If you have a message for Camille Fernana, you may give it."

Billon spoke a few more words, but he seemed this time to strike a wrong note, for a sort of growl came from the crowd in the strange light up and down the road. "Pity," said Brisebarre, "he said he'd hold Camille personally responsible."

The voice from near the hospital answered again, at greater length; and this time Allan caught and recognized his own name, even though the L and the R were strangely rolled.

"He's asking for you and Madame to be 'released' before the fighting begins, and saying that otherwise he will hold Billon responsible for your lives."

"I'd better speak to them, hadn't I?" said Allan.

"Wait!" said Brisebarre, as Billon replied. "Col. Larg is beside me now. He adds his voice to mine."

There was another growl of dissent and disbelief from the crowd. The high voice took up the word again.

"I'm afraid they don't believe it," said Brisebarre. "He's saying that no Larg would join the French against Sekkougais."

"Tell Billon to let me speak to them," said Allan urgently. "Say I'll go out to them and argue."

But the words were scarcely out of his mouth when the ram's horn stuttered and blew, an eerie, booming blast; and a sudden crackle of shots rang out.

"Get down, Billon!" said Allan urgently in English; but Billon still essayed to shout through his megaphone until suddenly there was a little thud by Allan's ear; Billon staggered and choked; and he might well have fallen over the parapet, if Allan and Brisebarre had not risen and dragged him in to shelter.

"You look after him," said Brisebarre, "I'll take charge up here."

And Allan, forgetting, in his anger at the shooting of Billon, his resolutions of neutrality a short half hour ago, ran around the corner of the balcony, where the police were shooting rapidly, to where it overlooked the garden.

Here, unfortunately, one of the searchlights had failed—the one over the lock-up, in the corner nearest the town. The other was sweeping to and fro across the garden, doing as well as it could the work of both; and in the moment of Allan's arrival the first figures showed themselves at the top of the wall at the foot of the garden.

Allan had brought no weapon upstairs with him; but he found a large stone on the balcony beside him, and drove it down at a man below; and then seized the rifle of the searchlight operator beside him, picked off two more, and emptied the rest of the magazine into the milling crowd awaiting its turn to scale the ladders in the darkness outside the wall.

Within five minutes the assault was finished, and the word had evidently spread among those outside the walls.

When all was over, the recalcitrant searchlight came on.

Tips on Traffic Safety

By
CHARLES F. CARPENTIER
Secretary of State

A recent survey revealed the alarmingly high rate of fatal injuries suffered last year by pedestrians in a large Illinois city. According to statistics, more than 55 per cent of that city's traffic fatalities were pedestrians. And of this total, almost half of the victims were 65 or older.

The pedestrian death problem, which is, of course, confronting almost every city in the state, will be eased only when every pedestrian is aware of his obligations.

For instance, it is not enough that the pedestrian has the green light or in some cases the "Walk" signal, before proceeding to cross the street at an intersection. He should first look in both directions before crossing the street.

Despite countless warnings, there are still those people who insist upon stepping into the street from between or behind parked cars. And if the person who is a jaywalker—one who crosses the street between intersections—realized the manner in which he is endangering his life by such a maneuver, he would bring the practice to a sudden halt.

A copy of the completely new "Rules of the Road" booklet will be sent to you free upon request. Write to CHARLES F. CARPENTIER, Secretary of State, Springfield, Illinois.

Public Health Survey to Sample 22-County Area

SPRINGFIELD — A U. S. public health survey of the extent of illness, disability and other health data will include sampling areas in 22 Illinois counties, Illinois Health Director Roland R. Cross reported today.

Sample Illinois families in the 22-county area will be interviewed by U. S. Census Bureau personnel. Questions will include those about the number, age, sex and occupations of persons suffering from disease, and others about medical care, hospitalization and similar subjects.

Cross urged Illinois families to cooperate in the survey to provide data to "plan more effective and economical health programs."

Areas in Cook, Du Page, Kane, Lake, Will, Grundy, Livingston, Peoria, Tazewell, Kankakee, Winnebago, Madison, St. Clair, Coles, Cumberland, Douglas, Moultrie, Fayette, Shelby, Franklin, Jackson, and Williamson counties will be included in the survey, Cross said.

Heart-Warming Story of Raising Pigs To Build Cross Spreads Into County

One of the most heart-warming stories to come out of the campaign for funds with which to build the Bald Knob cross is the widow and her now famous old sow, Betsy.

Many Harrisburg people are acquainted with the story. It has been told on WSIL-TV where widow Clutts appeared with some of Betsy's pigs recently. These columns have told sketches of the unusual story. Now Harrisburg farmers are actually growing some of the famous pigs. Here, briefly, is the story.

When Wayman Presley, spark-plug of the big cross movement, was buying the land on Bald Knob mountain, widow Myrta Clutts east of Cobden, Ill., pledged $100 without knowing where the money would come from. Her three grown children objected. They feared payment of the pledge would strain the family budget too much. Myrta prevailed. "I have faith," she told them. "The money will pop up from someplace before you know it."

Before long Myrta's old sow, Betsy, farrowed 21 pigs. This was more than three times the average. "There you are," she said. "There are more than a hundred dollars worth of pigs." The sow, Old Betsy, was aided by the farm dog in raising the pigs.

Myrta's story of faith and her talent got spread around. She wondered whether her talent could be multiplied to swell the cross building fund. Presley thought it could. He began inviting farmers to take one of Betsy's pigs to raise. He began last summer. By re-distributing the pigs farmers raise, he has already more than 300 head, all told.

This chain-reaction process promises big. Already the pigs are expanding into Saline county. Presley, himself, and his son, Clyde, are calling on nearby farmers inviting them to grow pigs. "Sure, throw a couple in with mine and I'll raise them for you," said G. E. Crest a mile south of Harrisburg. His neighbors, Priestly Hilliard, Dock (and son Jack) Hilliard, Talbot Syers, Ellis Fox, Robert Gott and partner Brooks, Leo Anderson and Guy DeNeal and son all followed suit in the first few hours.

Typical of the farmers' reaction, according to Presley, was that of Robert Gott who stopped his tractor for a few minutes to hear the story. "If you had been selling something," he said, "I would already have driven off and left you standing here, but this is different. We need this. Bring us a couple anytime."

"A great, beautiful cross is now assured," said Presley this morning. "It is now only a matter of getting enough money to build it as impressive as we want it to be."

When there are enough hogs, all will be sold and the cross built. Cash from contributions from all over the United States is deposited in several southern Illinois banks and a copy of the audit of the fund is on file with the Chicago Better Business Bureau.

This proposed cross is being supported by people of all Christian faiths and those belonging to no church. They see it as a visible plea for peace and brotherhood among men. A great many Harrisburg clubs have contributed cash to the fund and now, through Myrta's pigs, the area farmers have an opportunity to take part.

The cross fund has climbed to a total of nearly $150,000, Mr. Presley reported today.

Major League Clubs Rush To Reach Player Deadline; Giants Get Stu Miller

By United Press
A host of players on 10 major league teams today probably felt like a traffic violator waiting for a patrolman to hand him a summons.

Six clubs already have trimmed their rosters to the required 25-player limit, a United Press survey revealed, but 18 more heads will roll before the cutdown deadline at midnight Wednesday.

In the National League, the Cubs, Pirates, Giants and Phillies completed transactions Monday that enabled them to square away their rosters 48 hours ahead of time. The Cardinals still must cut three players, the Braves are two over the limit, while the Dodgers and the Redlegs each have one pink slip to hand out.

The Tigers and the Athletics are the only American League teams not faced with roster-trimming worries. The Senators and the Indians each must cut three players, the White Sox are two over, and the Yankees, Red Sox and Orioles one each.

Only one game was played in the majors Monday—the Senators downing the Red Sox, 5-3, in a night game at Boston. This off day enabled some of the clubs to get a jump on the cutdown deadline.

The Giants reached the 25-player limit by dumping four men and purchasing right-handed pitcher Stu Miller from Minneapolis in the American Association. Southpaw John (Windy) McCall was sold to San Francisco of the Pacific Coast League; pitcher Gordon Jones was optioned to Minneapolis, and outfielder Bill Taylor and catcher-infielder Bobby Hoffman were released outright to the same club.

The Cubs purchased two infielders—picking up Bobby Morgan from the Phillies and acquiring Jack Littrell from Portland of the PCL. At the same time, first baseman Ed Mickelson and infielder Ed Winceniak were sold to Portland; pitcher Dave Hillman was optioned to the same club, and outfielder Bob Lennon was released to San Diego in the PCL.

Robinson on Block
Waivers on first baseman Ed Robinson were asked by the Detroit Tigers who will have to release another player by May 25, when second baseman Frank Bolling's national service exemption expires. It is believed another infielder will be sold or traded by then.

The Phillies reached the legal limit when Morgan was sold to the Cubs, while the Pirates did the same by selling southpaw Bob Kuzava to Columbus and optioning catcher Danny Kravitz to the same International League club.

Ted Abernathy allowed only four hits in picking up his first victory of the season at the expense of the Red Sox. Herb Pless collected three hits and knocked in two runs to lead the Washington attack. Ted Williams went hitless in three official at-bats and dropped into second place in the American League batting race with a .403 average.

State Junior High Meet Wednesday At Taylor Field

The top Junior high school track and field performers in southern Illinois will be in Harrisburg Wednesday for the Junior high track and field meet. The big track carnival will be held at Taylor Field, starting at 1 p. m.

Eight regional meets were held last week and all point winners on the regional championship teams, plus all other first and second place winners in each event are eligible to participate in the state affair, expected to attract 150 to 200 of the finest Junior High school performers.

Regional winners: Region I, held at Cairo, won by Anna; Region II, held at Pinckneyville, won by Murphysboro; Region III, held at Herrin, won by Marion; Region IV, held at West Frankfort, won by Benton; Region V, held at Harrisburg, won by Norris City; Region VI, held at Centralia and won by Centralia; Region VII, held at Fairfield and won by Fairfield; Region VIII, held at Olney and won by Olney.

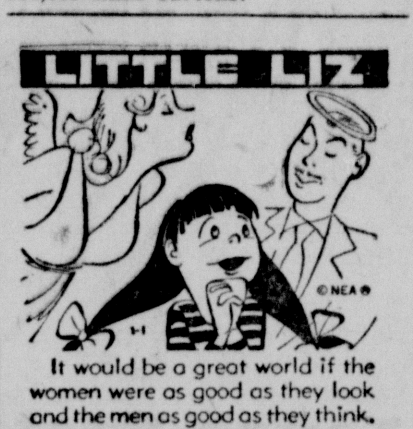

Louie Beltz, Harrisburg Junior high school athletic director, will be meet manager and Lawrence Caluffetti, HTHS athletic director, will be the official starter.

Three trophies will be awarded for team finishes and ribbons will be awarded the first five individuals in each event. There will be an admission fee of 25 cents.

Looking At Sports

By BILL MELTON

Although the judges had no apparent difficulty in picking the winners in the 100 and 220 yards dashes at the district track and field meet held Friday at the SIU stadium, the timers came up with identical times in each event.

Bill Yates, winner by a stride in the 100 yard dash, was timed at 10.5. But the times for second, third and fourth places also were caught at 10.5. The race was close, but definitely not a blanket finish, but the first four runners were all timed at 10.5.

The 220-yard dash brought on a similar condition, but on a smaller scale. This time Yates finished second to Britton of West Frankfort, but both were timed at 23.5.

Richard Box of Herrin and Leonard Willis of Eldorado, who had the best times this season in the mile, stepped out early to show the other entrants they were the class of the event.

Last year, as sophomores, Willis topped the event and Box finished fifth.

Friday night Willis took a stride lead over Box and held it through more than 3 1/2 laps. Then Box made his bid about 150 yards from the finish and they battled nose-and-nose until Box went in front with approximately 75 yards to go. Box held about a 10 yard advantage when he hit the tape, timed at 4:34.1. Willis was caught at 4:39.1.

These two will probably meet for the "rubber" decision next year.

Damon Hart of Christopher, the only double winner, taking firsts in the broad jump and high jump, also was the only performer to make a clean defense of a title won last year. Hart also took the high jump in 1956.

Fann, Hurst-Bush's fine pole vaulter and last year's winner, had to be satisfied with a three-way tie for first this year.

The State track and field meet is scheduled for Friday and Saturday, May 17-18, at the University of Illinois and again an upstate school is favored to take the title.

Bloom Township high school of Chicago Heights, 1956 winner, is favored to make a successful defense of its state track and field championship. A second straight title would place Bloom in a select

SIU Defeats Evansville, 5-2

Southern Illinois University gave Evansville College its fifth defeat in 12 games yesterday by taking a 5-2 victory at East Side Park in Evansville.

Evansville collected only two hits, but both produced runs. Lou Jansen, the Aces' first baseman, tripled in Richie Thompson in the third inning to make it 1-0. Pitcher Bob Derrington drove in Dick Sinclair with a single in the seventh after the Salukis had taken a 5-1 lead.

Southern scored one run in the fifth inning on a hit and three walks. The Salukis then collected two runs each in the sixth and seventh innings to take the victory, their second over Evansville this year.

House Defeats Bill to Ban Organizational Picketing, 104-64

SPRINGFIELD — An overwhelming vote by the House to kill a bill that would have banned "organizational picketing" by labor unions today also signaled the doom of the "right to work" measure introduced in the Legislature.

Twenty-eight Republicans joined an almost solid bloc of Democrats Monday to defeat 104-64 a move to rescue the bill against organizational picketing.

After the decisive defeat of the picketing bill, Rep. George S. Brydian (R-Prophetstown) indicated he would not even try to win passage of his "right to work" bill which would ban the union shop in Illinois.

Rep. Harold W. Widmer (R-Freeport), sponsor of the picketing bill, started a floor fight Monday with a motion to override a recommendation by the House Industry Committee that the bill "do not pass." The committee had voted against the bill 26-15 last week.

Such a recommendation automatically kills a bill unless there is a motion to override the committee. Defeat of Widmer's motion meant the death of the bill.

The House galleries were filled with opponents and supporters of the bill as the vote was taken on Widmer's motion, and the hour and a half debate was punctuated several times with cheers and boos.

The bill would have banned picketing where a union did not represent a majority of the employees of a firm or where no actual dispute existed between an employer and his workers.

Widmer charged that such "track-picketing" tends to "eliminate many small businesses that cannot withstand the pressure" of picketing.

He said the bill was "not an anti-labor bill, but an anti-racketeering bill."

Widmer and other supporters of the bill made several references to the current U. S. Senate Rackets Committee investigation of Dave Beck and the Teamsters Union.

Rep. William Pierce (D-Rockford), a machinist and union member, argued that the bill had received a full, fair hearing in the committee and that "I don't think the committee deserves your censure."

Rep. G. William Horsley (R-Springfield) said the bill was sponsored "by the Chamber of Commerce" and would make it possible for employers to forever avoid picketing of their establishments by firing enough workers to prevent a union from ever representing a majority.

Horsley conceded that "there has been some abuse" of the right to picket but said the bill would "go from one extreme to the other."

Rep. Carl Soderstrom (R-Streator), a son of Illinois Federation of Labor President Reuben G. Soderstrom, said the bill would "revive union busting by injunction."

Rep. Marion Burks (R-Evanston) argued that the bill would "hurt no one but a few unscrupulous bosses who have been using black-jack methods."

Five Michigan Youths Held in County Jail

proached at the Eldorado intersection Monday night by some Norris City high school youths. They said the carload of boys in the Michigan car had called them out of a Norris City restaurant and offered to sell them items "real cheap."

They declined to buy anything, they said, believing the stuff to be "hot," and started south on Route 45 to see where the quint went.

They told Sweat that the car was parked at that time near the woods at the Omaha road and Sweat started in that direction. However, at the Little Egypt cafe curve just east of Eldorado, he spotted the car headed toward the intersection.

He turned around and followed and caught up just as the five were getting out of the car at the Harper station. Sweat, with shotgun in hand, made all five line up against the wall, hands up, while he searched them, then radioed for State Policemen Guthrie Alexander and Mike Taggart, also on night duty, to assist him in taking the five to the county jail.

Sweat said that although the boys were not armed, they had the meat cleaver, the hammer, tire tools and some sections of rope in the seats of the car with them. He also said that Erwin had been driving the car.

Harold Hancock to Exhibit Paintings At Myrons Store

Harold Hancock, former Harrisburg young man who is now an artist, writes The Daily Register revealing that he plans to exhibit some of his work at Myrons in Harrisburg.

"I plan to be in Harrisburg in time to set up the show for June 3," he writes. "I hope to have 25 to 30 pictures that may be rotated during the two-week exhibit so that all may be viewed because I don't believe Mr. Lasersohn (the proprietor) can give the space for more than eight or 10 to be shown at a time."

Here is some more of the letter from Mr. Hancock, who resides with his family at Greensburg, Ind.:

"Do you remember me? I used to sell magazines back in 1934, 1935, 1936 and 1937. Miss Kathryn Rice, to whom I owe a lot for the help she gave me as an art teacher and good friend—at her request and Mr. Harry Taylor's I was able to take art longer at Harrisburg high, and since then Miss Rice has succeeded in getting four years of art there for the students. She has information and photographs concerning an art exhibit I wish to present in June at Myrons. Eli is very enthused about the show and I feel honored for his store is a most desirable location for my paintings."

"My art career has taken me to Europe, all over the United States, and after leaving the pictures for the exhibit at Myrons, we (my wife, Thelma, and our four children, Mike, Mark, Melita and Michelin) are going to Mexico for a month or more."

Bag Missing Witness in Dave Beck Probe

WASHINGTON — The Senate Rackets Committee today bagged one of four missing witnesses in its sensational investigation of Teamster President Dave Beck.

U. S. Marshal W. Budd Parsons of Seattle, Wash., said a deputy marshal has served a subpoena on Norman Gessert, a cousin of Beck's wife, at Ellensburg, Wash., Monday night.

Hoffa Indicted on Federal Charge of Tapping Phones

NEW YORK — Detroit Teamster leader James R. Hoffa and two others were indicted today by a federal grand jury on charges of conspiring to violate the anti-wire tap laws.

Named with Hoffa in the indictment were Bernard Brennan, president of Teamster Local 337, and Bernard Spindel, a professional wiretapper.

They are accused of tapping telephones in the Teamsters Union headquarters building in Detroit, particularly calls concerning the Senate Rackets Committee investigation of corruption in unions.

The three conspired to use information gained from the wiretaps and pass it on to others without permission from the persons making the calls, the indictment said.

Dental Ass'n Prexy Attacks Denture Measure

PEORIA, Ill. — The president of the Illinois Dental Assn. charged today that a bill before the Legislature to license persons to supply dentures directly to the public was a menace to public health.

Dr. C. F. Isenberger, Lanark, made the charge at the 73rd annual meeting of the association here. He said the bill would put the supplying of false teeth and other dentures on a strictly "mechanical" basis without regard to the medical aspects of dentistry.

The bill, introduced by Reps. Jack Walker (R-Lansing) and James Carrigan (D-Peoria), would allow the Illinois Registration and Education Department to set up regulations for and license persons engaged in making, repairing or supplying dentures.

Licensed persons could supply dentures directly to the public without being dentists.

Isenberger charged the bill would permit licensing of any person who completed a two year trade school and that such schools would be open to any persons over 16 years of age.

Beck Advised To Step Down

WASHINGTON — Public relations advisers to the Teamsters Union have recommended that Dave Beck step out of the union's presidency at least temporarily, informed sources said today.

The recommendations were submitted to Teamsters Vice President Einar Mohn and, these sources said, are probably being considered by Mohn and four other

U. S. May Propose 'Open Skies' For Alaska, Siberia, Dulles Says

WASHINGTON — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said today the United States may propose to Russia an "open skies" aerial inspection plan covering Siberia and Alaska.

In discussing the possibility of Siberia and Alaska as a limited disarmament test area, Dulles said this is the kind of area that might provide launching sites in an atomic war.

Dulles did not rule out the possibility that a test disarmament inspection zone might also be worked out in part of Europe. But he told a news conference that the problems there are much greater because they involve German unification, other political problems and extremely calculated areas.

Dulles emphasized that the United States has not yet reached an agreed government position on the aerial inspection zones it will propose in further negotiations with the Soviet Union in London. He said those talks have been considering a whole host of proposals and may now be at the stage where it is advisable for U. S. disarmament negotiator Harold E. Stassen to return to Washington for consultations.

Dulles said that the Russians at long last seem to have agreed with the United States that aerial inspection is essential in getting disarmament going. He said the question now is: In what zones should the test area be started.

About Town And Country

prospects for two or three more of this variety in the closed bud stage.

This unusual bit of nature was in the flower garden at the home of Mrs. Ruby Veatch, 323 West Sloan street. I went out and inspected it last Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Veatch's mother, Mrs. Ida Rude, was there at the time and she showed me through the house, which has undergone a most extensive job of remodeling. The entire exterior has been covered with Beauty Stone, a new porch has been built and just about as much work has been done on the interior. I was particularly impressed with the kitchen, where cabinets line most of the wall from the floor to the top, and where both the refrigerator and freezer are built into the wall.

Judge Hancock Discusses Wills At Rotary Club

The proper way to make a will and what should be included in it, was presented by Judge L. M. Hancock at the Rotary meeting Monday at noon. Judge Hancock was introduced by Judge Trafton Dennis, program chairman.

In his discussion of wills, Judge Hancock said that a will is used to dispose of property in a manner in which it would not be done if there is not a will. He said that a will can be destroyed and a new one made at any time the maker so wishes. Consideration should be given to possible tax changes, which would alter the amount of money the heirs would actually receive.

Judge Hancock said that a will could be used to adjust the amounts given to each member of the family, as some may have received more benefits than others during the life of the maker of the will. He listed several other things that should be taken in consideration in making a will and in closing Judge Hancock stated that the maker of a will should confer with his lawyer to be sure his will is up to date, as conditions change which will affect the will.

The Rotary club was guest to the honor students from the Dorrisville grade school and the junior high school. They were as follows: from the junior high school, Janet Hart, 8th grade, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Troy E. Hart, 400 East Church street; Sue Taylor, 8th grade, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Taylor, rural route 3, and Joyce Bridwell, 7th grade, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Bridwell, 113 East Lincoln street; Dorrisville grade school, Joe Carnett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Evans, 927 Barnett street.

How Texas Eastern fits into Keystone's picture

Besides taking good movies, a Keystone camera can take hard knocks—and keep looking pretty as a picture—thanks, in part, to gas transported from the Southwest by Texas Eastern.

Gas is used by Keystone Camera Company's Boston plant to bake a handsome, durable finish on its cameras and projectors. Gas is used because it is fast and dependable, easily controlled and—above all—economical. It helps Keystone to make and market precision instruments at a price easy for the home movie maker to afford.
